“Let the Welfare of the People be the Supreme Law”

FOREWORD FROM THE COMMISSIONER OF POLICE

It is with great pride and a sense of deep responsibility that I present the Annual Report 2024–2025 of the Mauritius Police Force (MPF). The enfolding year has been a significant and enriching one whereby significant progress was noted, strategic reform and steadfast commitment to the safety and well-being of the people of Mauritius was prioritised.

Despite evolving challenges in crime trends, cyber threats and public safety demands, our dedicated officers have demonstrated resilience, professionalism and innovation. We will continue to pursue excellence through our future strategic roadmap for Police Vision 2029 focusing on proactive crime prevention, community engagement, digital transformation and capacity building.

*R. Sooroojebally, PMSM
Commissioner of Police*

In 2024–2025, the MPF made significant headway in enhancing public trust. Through our Community Policing model, we deepened ties with residents, civil society and local authorities to prevent crime collaboratively and foster safe neighbourhoods. Technological advances, including expansion of the Safe City Project and a bolstered Cybercrime Unit, helped us stay one step ahead of sophisticated criminal networks.

We also focused on workforce development, improving police training, welfare and accountability. Our officers received on-going tactical and ethical training and we introduced structured leadership development programs to build the next generation of police leaders.

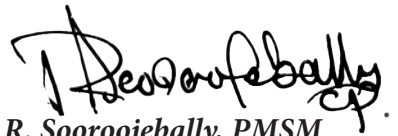

Yet, we are acutely aware that public confidence must be continuously earned. We therefore strengthened our complaints and integrity mechanisms, launched internal audits and improved transparency to ensure that every officer upholds the core values of honesty, integrity, respect and service.

This report provides an in-depth view of our operational activities, financial management, achievements, and challenges. It is a testament to the tireless work of over 12,000 men and women in uniform who serve with honour and courage every day.

As we look ahead to 2025–2026, we reaffirm our commitment to innovation, accountability, and inclusive safety. With the support of our communities, the Government and our international partners, we will continue to evolve into a modern, community-focused and intelligence-led Police Force.

I extend my heartfelt appreciation to all Police officers, civilian staff, volunteers and partners who contributed to our collective success.

Together, we ensure a safer Mauritius.

R. Sooroojebally, PMSM
Commissioner of Police

PART I

OVERVIEW OF THE ORGANISATION

I. The Mauritius Police Force

The Mauritius Police Force (MPF) which is the primary law enforcement agency in the Republic of Mauritius, carries out police, security, military and naval functions for mainland Mauritius, Rodrigues and other outer islands. Around 12,903 Police Officers are in service and working under the command of the Commissioner of Police. MPF is part of the Home Affairs Division which operates under the aegis of the Prime Minister's Office.

1.1 History

The Mauritius Police has a long history dating back to the colonial era when Mauritius was under the French rule. It was officially established in 1767 and has since evolved as a modern Police Force to meet the changing needs of the nation.

1.2 Structure

The MPF comprises several specialised units, Divisions and Branches, each responsible for specific aspects of law enforcement, policing and public safety. The Force is headed by the Commissioner of Police.

1.3 Jurisdiction

The MPF has jurisdictions over the entire territory of Mauritius including mainland Mauritius, Rodrigues and surrounding outer islands. The Force is responsible for maintaining law and order, preventing and detecting offences, investigating crimes and ensuring safety and security of the general public.

1.4 Challenges

Like many law enforcement agencies, MPF faces various challenges, including crimes against persons, crime against property, drug trafficking, fraud and dishonesty, road safety and cybercrime amongst others.

2 Role and Functions of the Mauritius Police Force

Pursuant to section 71 of the Constitution of the Republic of Mauritius, the Commissioner of Police shall be a public office and the Mauritius Police Force shall be under his command. The Prime Minister or other such authorised Minister may give such general directions of policy to the Commissioner of Police with respect to the maintenance of public safety and public order.

2.1 Police Act 1974

The powers and duties of the MPF are mainly governed by section 9 of the Police Act 1974 and for that purpose it shall take all lawful measures for -

- (a) preserving the public peace;
- (b) preventing and detecting offences;
- (c) apprehending persons who have committed or who are reasonably suspected of having committed offences;
- (d) regulating processions and gatherings on public roads and in public places or places of public resort;
- (e) regulating traffic and preventing or removing obstructions from public roads;
- (f) preserving order in public places and places of public resort, at public gatherings and assemblies for public amusement;
- (g) assisting in implementing health, quarantine, customs and excise laws;
- (h) assisting in preserving order in ports, harbours and airports;
- (i) executing process issued by a Court;
- (j) swearing information and conducting prosecutions; and,
- (k) performing such other functions as may be conferred on police officers under any other enactment.

Additionally, the Police Force may exercise any of the duties referred to in subsections (l) (b), (c) and (k) in the maritime zones of Mauritius and, for the purposes of the Piracy and Maritime Violence Act 2011, in the high seas.

Every police officer shall perform such paramilitary duties as he may be required to do and, for that purpose, may serve in any specialised unit of the Police Force.

For the purposes of subsection (l) (f), a police officer on duty shall have free admission to the places, gatherings and assemblies specified while they are open to the public.

2.2 The Organisation

For administrative and operational effectiveness, MPF is divided into eight (8) Police Divisions including Rodrigues. Each Division covers an area in the geographical district of the island and is sub-divided into six to fourteen Police Station areas. It is headed by a Divisional Commander who ensures that local policing is responsive, accountable and tailored to meet local needs.

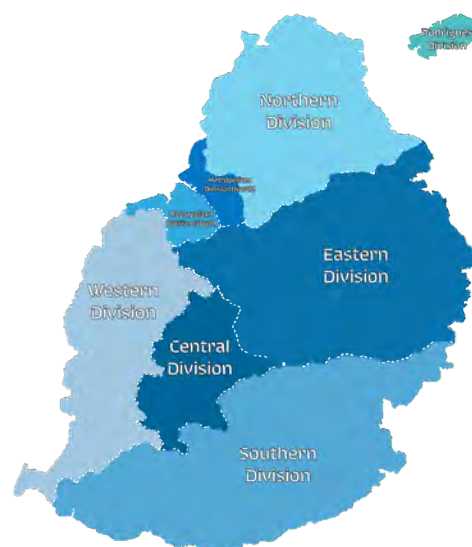

2.2.1 Police Headquarters

The Police Headquarters, situated at Line Barracks in Port Louis is at the apex of the organisation of the Mauritius Police Force (MPF) and is responsible for the overall administration, management and operational planning of the Force. It comprises several units, such as the Police Research and Development Unit (PRDU), Firearm Index, Police IT Unit, Brigade pour la Protection de la Famille (BPF), Police Store (Warehousing and Finance), Transport Guard Room (TGR), Human Resources and Internal Audit Squad (IAS), Communications Branch, Central Armoury and the Police Vehicle and Technical Unit (PVTU) amongst others.

2.2.2 Police Divisions

The boundaries of the Police divisions and the villages/ towns found in the respective divisional area is herewith enclosed as Annex A. A list of Police Stations and Police Posts is put up at Annex B.

2.2.3 Branches

Police Main Command & Control Centre

The Police Main Command & Control Centre (PMCCC) was established on 19 August 2019 and is currently located at the Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee Tower, Ebene. It is responsible to operate the Safe City system with a view to preventing and detecting crimes through CCTV live viewing and by coordinating and monitoring Police deployment. Its role is also to act as a central coordination point for receiving and disseminating information with a view to enhancing the overall safety and security across Mauritius.

Special Mobile Force (SMF)

The Special Mobile Force (SMF) was founded on 30 June 1960 and its main function is to ensure internal and external security of our Republic. Its personnel including those in its specialized teams such as GIPM, EHU, Mobile wing and Engineer Squadron, are employed for security over vital installations, search and rescue operations, bomb disposal, disaster response, maintaining of public order, drugs operations and other specialized tasks.

Special Support Unit (SSU)

The primary objective of the SSU is to assist the local Police in controlling civil unrest whenever the situation escalates beyond its control. It also provides support in ensuring security at sensitive and vulnerable points, crowd control, search and rescue operations, targeted operations, escorting of dangerous prisoners as well as handling high-risk situations such as major incidents, large-scale public disturbances and emergency responses.

National Coast Guard (NCG)

The National Coast Guard (NCG) was established on 24 July 1987 and is responsible for safeguarding the country's maritime boundaries and ensuring maritime safety and security within its Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ). Its main function is to undertake seaborne and airborne surveillance operations to prevent and detect smuggling, illegal trafficking and illegal fishing as well as rendering assistance to seafarers in the region.

A list of NCG Posts located in mainland Mauritius, Rodrigues and Outer Islands is found at Annex C.

Police Helicopter Squadron (PHS)

Commissioned on the 16 September 1974, the Police Helicopter Squadron (PHS) plays a pivotal role in life saving, protection of property, fight against the drug scourge, coastal surveillance, monitoring and controlling maritime pollution, medical evacuation and environmental disaster-related contingencies.

Central Criminal Investigation Department (CCID)

The Central Criminal Investigation Department (CCID) is a unit that mainly deals with sensitive cases and cases involving larger public/ national interest such as cases of bribery, fraud, homicides and cybercrimes. It includes several units namely the MCIT, AML/ CFT, SOCO, CRO, CPU, TIP and Cybercrime Unit, amongst others. It also collaborates with INTERPOL through NCB Port Louis to enhance international cooperation in addressing global criminal activities.

Traffic Branch

The Traffic Branch came into existence in the year 1920 and is the sole authority to issue driving licenses. Its main responsibility is to ensure road safety through road policing, enforcement of road traffic laws and regulations as well as public awareness and sensitisation on road safety aspects.

National Security Service (NSS)

The National Security Service (NSS) is responsible for safeguarding the country's national security interests. It focuses on countering internal and external threats, including terrorism and organised crime by collating information and developing intelligence for onward dissemination and Police actions.

Anti Drug and Smuggling Unit (ADSU)

The Anti Drug and Smuggling Unit, known as ADSU is responsible for the legal repression of drugs proliferation, throughout the country and the Outer Islands. It also plays a critical role in educating and sensitizing the general public on substance abuse, its adverse effects and consequences.

Port Police

The main function of the Port Police is the maintenance of law and order as well as the prevention and detection of offences in the Port Area. It also assists the Port authorities in access control, security of workers, passengers, ships, cargo and other properties.

Airport Police

Airport Police is responsible for ensuring security and maintenance of public order at the Sir Seewoosagur Ramgoolam International Airport. It also assists the airport authorities in the enforcement of aviation regulations, conducts security screenings and responds to emergency situations.

Police Medical Unit (PMU)

The Police Medical Unit (PMU) provides essential healthcare services to police personnel, and their families. In support to criminal investigation, medical officers are also responsible to perform autopsies, post-mortem examinations and medico-legal examination of suspects/victims.

Emergency Response Service (ERS)

The Emergency Response Service was launched in October 1998. It is a mobile Unit in support to Divisions, aims at providing prompt and effective response to public requests or any other emergency. It also assumes the functions of Police du Tourisme and Transport Squad.

Police de L'Environnement

Established in 2000, the Police de l'Environnement provides assistance to the Ministry of Environment in responding to environmental complaints and enforcement of environmental laws, comprising noise pollution, odour, dumping, eyesores, illegal slaughtering and nuisances caused by derelict bare lands.

3 Gender Statement

3.1 Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy

The strength of the Mauritius Police Force (MPF) lies not just in its capacity to enforce the law but in its determination and courage to embody it. The “Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment” Policy is not merely a procedural document but a declaration of purpose, a pledge from every Police Officer irrespective of ranks who walks through its corridors.

This commitment extends beyond internal boundaries as it reflects our country’s broader aspiration for inclusive governance, gender equity and human rights.

3.2 MPF Policy Statement

The MPF is committed to comply and enforce all domestic legislations as well as any Police orders that prohibit any form of discrimination and harassment including sexual harassment at the workplace.

This policy aims at maintaining a conducive working environment for all its members irrespective of their posting, age, appearance, family background, marital status, gender, sex, genetic information, religion, ethnic origin, professional status, competencies, veteran status, or any other legally-protected class.

MPF also assures that any complaint of discrimination and harassment against any member of the Force are thoroughly and promptly investigated in accordance with existing legislations and orders such as the Equal Opportunity Act, Police Standing Orders (Discipline Code) and any other related statutory/ administrative provisions.

MPF, to the best of its abilities, maintains the confidentiality of any complaint and the privacy of the members involved and acts consistently with its approach in conducting a discrete, thorough and complete investigation.

In the event the ensuing investigation confirms that any kind of discrimination or harassment has occurred, MPF, without any fear, favour or favouritism takes appropriate steps and remedial actions to stop any kind of discrimination or harassment, eliminates any hostile environment, prevents recurrence of misconduct, and takes corrective measures as required in the circumstances.

MPF also ensures that complainants and witnesses are protected from retaliation for reporting acts of discrimination or harassment or for participating in the investigation of such complaint. Any member of the Force who retaliates against any complainant or Enquiring Officer will amount to violations of this policy. Disciplinary or criminal proceedings as applicable may be instituted against the member retaliating.

3.3 Scope of the Policy

In committing itself to this policy, MPF aims to-

- ◆ create a working environment which is free from discrimination and harassment where all members are treated with dignity, courtesy and respect;
- ◆ organise regular training and awareness sessions on the subject matter so as to ensure that all members of the Force are familiarised with their rights and responsibilities;
- ◆ encourage the reporting of behaviour which breaches this policy;
- ◆ provide an effective procedure for complaints based on the principles of natural justice;
- ◆ treat all complaints in a sensitive, fair, timely and confidential manner;
- ◆ protect members from victimisation and reprisals for making complaints; and,
- ◆ promote appropriate standards of conduct at all times.

3.4 The Women Police Officers Network (WPON)

Since the inception of the Women Police Officers Network (WPON) in February 2023, a landmark initiative within the Mauritius Police Force which redefined the role of women on modern policing whereby their empowerment and emancipation was central.

The WPON was not born for convenience but of conviction whereby the broader recognition of gender equity is central for the integrity, effectiveness and humanity of policing.

WPON has offered a new terrain of solidarity, empowerment and shared purpose. This initiative further consolidate the MPF's commitment to becoming gender-sensitive institution. The WPON is an ideal platform where every woman in uniform feels seen, heard and valued, not just as an officer but as well as a human being.

From July 2024 to June 2025, the Women Police Officers Network (WPON) has organised a series of activities aimed at promoting the welfare of women serving in the Mauritius Police Force as hereunder:-

- ◆ organised team-building exercises around the island under their respective supervisors;
- ◆ held a special mass celebrated by Mgr Durhone at St Esprit Church, Bel Air;
- ◆ distributed refreshment on the occasion of the Maha Shivaratree;
- ◆ organised breast screening for their well-being of women officers; and,
- ◆ organised a blood donation drive at the Municipality of Beau Bassin/ Rose Hill on the occasion of International Women's Day.

4.10 Police Research and Development Unit

4.10.1 The Police Research and Development Unit (PRDU) was established at the Police Headquarters with a view to develop and adopt best contemporary policing practices to enhance professionalism and service delivery in the Mauritius Police Force (MPF).

4.10.2 Under its four main functions mentioned below, PRDU undertook various initiatives aimed at pursuing the organisation's goals.

(i) Strategic Planning

PRDU continued to monitor, the implementation of the MPF Strategic Policing Plan 2022-2025, and the achievements of Divisions, Branches and Units on a monthly basis.

PRDU initiated or contributed to several major projects in the previous financial year. These projects primarily focus on enhancing service delivery, bolstering community safety and partnerships, and improving human resource management. The projects are outlined as follow:

- ◆ Organising the Passing - Out Parade of 447 recruits on 09th April 2025;
- ◆ Preparing Oath Taking of Batch 2024 held 06 September 2024 at PTS Beau Bassin;
- ◆ Organising a Free Medical Checkups in collaboration with the Ministry of Health and Wellness for Police Officers from 07th to 9th August 2024. (Admin order no. 50/2024);
- ◆ Assisting in Promotion Exercise held from July 2024 to June 2025 is 2,149. (From the rank of Police Sergeant to Deputy Commissioner of Police); and,
- ◆ Reorganization of Police Divisions.

(ii) Research

PRDU engages in both short and long term planning. On the one hand, it focuses on issues requiring immediate response such as crime situation, road safety and quality service, amongst others. On the other hand, it also plans for long term projects/strategies which include human resources and logistics.

Here also, some research projects were initiated during financial year 2024-2025 as follows:

8. Risk Management, Citizen Oriented Initiatives & Good Governance

The principles of impartiality, integrity, transparency and accountability are anchored in the values and mission of the Mauritius Police Force characterised by the way in which its customers are handled.

Since the launching of the Police Officer's Ethics Guide in October 2018, which was edited in collaboration with Transparency International, it continues to serve in maintaining a higher standard of policing and reducing unprofessional/ unethical behaviour in the MPF.

It focuses on topical issues such as integrity, non-discrimination and self-discipline which are all critical to the Mauritius Police Force.

The community needs Police officers to ward off instability or chaos within the society. It needs a Police that can be trusted. The majority of Police Officers want that too. Negative publicity undermines the morale of those who are committed to their mission.

Arguably, there is no secret: Integrity in leadership builds trust, commitment at all levels drives results and discipline ensures consistency.

PART IV

WAY FORWARD

12. Trend and Challenges

The Mauritius Police Force (MPF) is the national law enforcement agency entrusted with responsibilities of ensuring internal and external security of the Republic of Mauritius. For this purpose, the MPF has been organised into various Police Divisions, Branches and Specialist Units.

MPF regularly evaluates existing and emerging challenges and threats in order to anticipate risks, enhance operational preparedness and develop easy-going strategies. In fact, this continuous mode of assessment ensures that policing remains responsive to evolving crime patterns, security concerns and societal needs while fostering resilience and public trust.

The upcoming threat assessment will provide strategic insights into emerging potential threats likely to jeopardise national security and have consequential impact over the quality of life of our citizens.

It help identifies and analyses crimes, policing and non-policing problems which are likely to impact on community safety, public peace and public order, national and territorial integrity and the country's image and reputation on the international arena.

13. Strategic Direction

A new Police Strategic Plan which spelt out the strategic directions of the MPF to take the organisation's effectiveness to new heights as well as tackling the challenges identified in the Threat Assessment is currently under preparation.

The achievements on the implementation of the Police Strategic Plan 2022 - 2025 is placed at Annex I.
